GOLDEN FRAGMENTS

Twenty-two bark fragments, painted gold, are carefully arranged on a black wooden panel.

These fragments come from a tree planted in Saint-Bruno-de-Montarville in 1963, a small town located a few miles outside Montreal.

Why 22 pieces of bark, you may ask?

Well, some numerological practices attribute a special meaning to the number 22, considering it a powerful number representing the fulfillment of dreams and the manifestation of intentions.

That's why!
