EIGHT (8)

This work features eight pieces of tree bark, painted black and carefully arranged, each fragment coming from a tree planted in Saint-Bruno-de-Montarville in 1963 (Greater Montreal Area).

Through its simplicity and the use of organic, natural elements, this work invites reflection on the ephemeral nature of our existence.

Why eight pieces of bark?

In numerology, the number 8 symbolizes power, authority, and material achievement.

Yet, beyond these external attributes, it also represents depth, wisdom, and spirituality.
